Sec. ~~III~~. No person shall be a senator or representative who, at the time of his election, is not a citizen of the United States and an elector of this State, nor any one who has not been for one year next preceeding his election an inhabitant of the county or district whence he may be chosen. Senators and representatives shall be at least twenty ~~four~~ years old.

8
A Sec. ~~IV~~. Senators and representatives in all ~~cases~~ cases except for treason, felony or breach of the peace, shall be privileged from arrest during the sessions of the ~~legislature~~ ~~legislature~~, and in going to and returning from the same, and shall not be liable to any civil process during the session of the ~~legislature~~ ~~legislature~~, nor during the ten days next before the commencement thereof, nor shall a member for words uttered in debate in either house be questioned in any other place.

A Sec. ~~V~~ ^{Resolutions}. The sessions of the ~~legislature~~ shall be held biennially at the capital of this state, commencing on the first Monday after the first day of January in the year 1891, and on the same day of every second year thereafter, unless a different day shall have been appointed by law, and at other times when convened by the Governor.

10
A Sec. ~~VI~~. Each house when assembled shall choose its own officers; judge of election, qualifications and returns of its own ~~members~~ ^{members}, determine its own rules of proceeding and sit upon its own adjournments, but neither house shall, without the concurrence of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which it may be sitting.

11
A Sec. ~~VII~~. A majority of each house shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as such house may provide. A quorum being in attendance, if either house fail to effect an organization within the first four days thereafter, the members of the house
