TOWN TALK.

Gossipy Little Paragraphs Picked Up Throughout the City.

The Johnson county fair is in progress at Buffalo.

The troops at Fort Russell will be paid next Monday.

Catholic prayer books at Cheyenne News Stand, opposite postoffice.

There will be a meeting of St. Mark's Guild this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the vestry room.

See Dr. Birney, the specialist, about your nose and throat trouble. Room 1, Hotel Normandy.

There is a project on foot to organize a home company and establish here a first class Turkish bath.

The initial meeting for the school year of the First District Teachers' Association will be held at the high school at 9:30 this morning.

The city was without electric light for half an hour last evening. This was caused by an accident to one of the big boilers at the power house.

Picked nines will play ball at the fair grounds Sunday. This will be a benefit game for Catcher Jim Millett and there should be a big attendance.

Hon. T. Dyer has received from Veterinarian Holcomb a certificate in effect that the mare mule exhibited at the fair here was actually the mother of the foal at her side.

Ralph Friend, who returned from Omaha yesterday, at that place sold a train load of cattle at better than Chicago prices and better than the figures of two weeks ago.

Dr. Birney, the specialist, treats the nose, throat, eye and ear only, and in these he is thorough. The doctor makes no charges for consultation. Room 1, Hotel Normandy.

Palace barber shop and bath rooms, opposite the postoffice, runs five first class artists. For a good, quick shave or the best bath in the city give them a call. Hair cutting a specialty and no long wait.

All persons who intend to go to the Knights Templar convocation at Washington will please leave their names at once with J. C. Baird, chairman of the committee. The special car will leave on the Burlington route on Wednesday evening next at 7 o'clock. The following morning the car will be attached to the regular Denver train going east. At Omaha the car will be added to the Nebraska Knights Templar train. There will be a stop over for twelve hours at day time in Chicago. On the return trip passengers may return at any time up to November 5 over any line from the Atlantic to Chicago, with stopovers at all junction points. Fare $45.75 for the round trip; $100 for all expenses going, staying and coming.

Laramie Race Meeting.
The Laramie Diving Park Association announces a race meeting on the half mile track near that city for Oct. 8, 9 and 10. There will be four events each day.

Ladies, you will miss it if you don't get some of those Wool Hoses. Five pairs for $1. The biggest bargain ever offered.

THE FEE BILL.

Salaries of Public Officials Discussed at Length.

Figures are Finally Fixed by the Convention.

Committees to Address Congress and the People.

Final Reading and Adoption of Propositions.

FINAL READING AND ADOPTION.

These articles were given a final reading and adopted as chapters of the constitution:

On revenue. Teschemacher voted no, explaining that in his opinion a portion of the bill was a direct blow at the prosperity and development of the state.

Public lands and donations. Mr. Grant moved that the state engineer be given the place of the governor on the land committee. Lost. Mr. Grant suggested the engineer as an additional member of the committee. Rejected.

Mr. Hay offered an amendment authorizing the legislature to increase the membership of the committee. It failed.

Coal mines. On this file Capt. Nickerson took the floor for the first time during the session and declared in favor of amending the chapter to allow children under fourteen to work in placer mines. The alteration reads that the youngsters shall not be employed in "coal, iron or other dangerous mines."

Elections and qualifications to office. Appeals from compulsory boards of arbitration direct to the supreme court.

Education, public schools, the university, charitable and penal institutions, public health and morals and public buildings.

DAMAGES.
Mr. Russell presented an amendment supplementary to the coal mine chapter. It is in effect that a man's family is injured more by his death than the fracture of a limb and that his survivors have the right to sue. There were three negative votes. Mr. Hay said he did not understand the proposition. Mr. Palmer characterized it as pure legislation and Mr. Riner declared that the subject was fully covered in the article on corporations.

THE FEE BILL.
These reports from the committee on salaries of public officers were taken up by the committee of the whole convention at 3 o'clock, yesterday afternoon, with Mr. Sutherland in the chair.

Majority—Justices of the peace and constables in precincts having population of less than 1,500 and court commissioners, boards of arbitration and notaries public receive fees alone but all other officers must cover fees into the treasury. In counties having valuation of less than $2,000,000 sheriff's salary shall not exceed $1,500; clerk, $1,200; treasurer, $1,000; assessor, $500; superintendent of schools, $300. In counties having valuation between $2,000,000 and $5,000,000, sheriff not more than $2,000; clerk, $1,500; treasurer, $1,500; assessor, $750; superintendent of schools, $500. In counties having over $5,000,000 valuation the sheriff's salary shall not exceed $3,000; clerk, $2,500; treasurer, $2,500; assessor, $1,500; superintendent of schools, $1,000. County boards may employ deputies who shall in no case receive more than $1,500 yearly.

Minority—Governor not less than $4,000 nor more than $6,000; secretary $2,400 to $3,600; auditor $2,400 to $3,600; treasurer, $2,000 to $3,000; superintendent of public instruction, $2,000 to $2,500; state examiner, $2,000 to $3,000 and ten cents mileage; judges of the supreme court $3,000 to $5,000; district judges, $3,000 to $4,000.

The chin chin séance induced by presentation of these reports is unrivaled in constitution convention annals. Half a hundred amendments were offered and voted down by big majorities. Everybody made two or three speeches and it was seldom that a quartette agreed on a proposition. Things came to such a pass that reference to the legislature was greeted with subdued but derisive cries of "cheese" and "rats." All sorts of impracticable plans were proposed and promptly rejected. It was almost the unanimous sentiment of the convention that salaries should be made small as compatible with efficient service, but there were mighty few members sufficiently familiar with local government to make a valuable suggestion. Some of the delegates learned that certain officers received greater fees for less work than others and vice versa, while a few were surprised to learn that the county as well as individuals coughed up fees. As they say of a mugwump gathering "all was chaos." For the first time the thought that being talked out of existence was a horrible death struck some people forcibly. The worst trouble was that two or three delegates who did understand the question thoroughly leaned back in their chairs and smiled complacently as the uninitiated made all sorts of absurd statements. Another difficulty was that Mr. Clark played a dirty Irish trick on Chairman Sutherland by utilizing his winning ways in securing the adoption of a motion to consider the two reports of the salary committee simultaneously. They wrangled and jangled and in the language of the dead game sport "chewed the rag" until the sunbeams assant Mr. Harvey's desk looked pale. There was a quorum right along, for every member felt in duty bound to see the thing through, but all were right tired when 6 o'clock came and took a recess with both reports in original form.

After a few minutes delay on account of the electric light the convention decided to again become a committee and once more assail the salary problem.

Mr. Grant, an extremely practical man who has given this subject not a little thought made a series of applicable amendments which met with the approval of the convention. With these and a few other timely suggestions the majority report was soon licked into shape. Here is a review of its provisions:

All state, city, town and school officers except justices of the peace in precincts having less than 1,500 population and court commissioners and boards of arbitration, shall be paid fixed and definite salaries. Legislature shall fix salaries where the constitution has failed.

The legislature shall provide for fees. When collected they shall be retained by the precinct and other officers designated above. Other officers, except the sheriff, who keeps civil suit fees, shall cover the same into the treasury and their bondsmen are to be responsible for a proper accounting of moneys received.

In counties having a valuation not exceeding $2,000,000 the sheriff's salary shall not be more than $1,500; clerk, $1,200; attorney, $1,200; treasurer, $1,000; assessor, $1,000; superintendent of schools $500.

In counties having more than $2,000,000 and not more than $5,000,000, the sheriff is to receive not more than $2,000; clerk, $1,800; treasurer, $1,500; assessor, $1,200; attorney, $1,500; superintendent of schools, $750.

In counties where the valuation exceeds $5,000,000 the sheriff shall be paid not more than $3,000; clerk, $2,000; treasurer, $2,000; assessor, $1,500; attorney, $2,500; superintendent of schools, $1,000.

No county surveyor shall receive more than $8 per day during the time of his actual employment. The legislature is to fix a remuneration for district court clerks. The legislature is to also make moderate and conservative provisions for assistants or deputies to the offices mentioned.

When the subject was tackled in earnest and understandingly it was disposed of in short order. Chairman Burrett would not tolerate useless delay. He quickly smashed the deadlock.

There wasn't a single county officer in the lobby at any stage of the notable discussion.

The final reading of the file followed its revision. Mr. Grant moved to lower the salaries of sheriffs in counties of the second class from $2,000 to $1,500. Mr. Irvine entered a vigorous protest and the motion was lost. At this time Mr. Elliott made a final demur against the fee system.

The fee bill was made a chapter of the constitution by a vote of 21 to 9. These gentlemen voted in the negative: Messrs. Clark, Elliott, Foote, Fox, Holden, Knight, Riner, Russell, Teschemacher, Mr. Burritt and Mr. Smith voted aye under protest, neither believing in the application of the principle.

HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION.
By unanimous consent Mr. Holden introduced the abtitled proposition: "A homestead as provided by law shall be exempt from forced sale under any process of law and shall not be alienated without the joint consent of husband and wife when that relation exists; but no property shall be exempt from sale for taxes or for the payment of obligations contracted in the purchase of said premises or for the erection of improvements thereon."

This was incorporated into the constitution.

TO GO TO WASHINGTON.
Mr. Campbell gave notice that before the adjournment of the convention he would move for the appointment of a non-partisan committee of ten to visit Washington this winter and urge upon congress the admission of Wyoming to the American Union. The question of whether or not the committee should include other than members of the convention was at once raised. It will doubtless be settled in the affirmative.

ADDRESS TO THE PEOPLE.
This is the committee to prepare an open letter to the people of Wyoming on the question of the hour: Messrs. Burritt, Coffeen, Hay, Harvey, Preston, Grant, Smith, Holden, Hopkins, Organ.

ADDRESS TO CONGRESS.
President Brown announced these gentlemen as members of a committee to prepare a constitutional address to congress: Messrs. Riner, Clark, Hoyt, Elliott, Irvine, Coffeen, Palmer, Nickerson, Casebeer, Moran.

TO PUBLISH THE CONSTITUTION.
Mr. Hay introduced a resolution authorizing the publication and distribution of the constitution by the printing committee. In conformance with Mr. Baxter's motion each delegate will receive twenty five copies, the balance to be given the territorial secretary, for general distribution. The edition will be not less than 10,000 copies.

A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life.
It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time, she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her; she bought a large bottle, it helped her more, bought another, and grew better fast, continued its use, and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds. For fuller particulars send stamp to W. H. Cole, Druggist, Fort Smith. Trial bottles of this wonderful discovery free at B. B. David's drug store.

Five Elephants.
The revival of the rage about the shah of Persia has led to a story on the Hon. Fred Winston, of Chicago, who for a short time represented the United States at the Persian court. When he arrived at Teheran he was met outside of the city by the chamberlain of the court, who in the name of the shah presented him with four elephants. Winston, who had never seen an elephant outside of a menagerie, was paralyzed at his situation, but managed to express his thanks for the shah's great kindness. After he had been presented, and had assumed the duties of his office, his greatest official burden was the care of his elephants. Relief came on the second day, when the intimation was politely conveyed that the shah expected a present from him.

"Certainly," said Winston, as a smile wreathed his face. "I have only been waiting to secure one worthy of so great a ruler."

That afternoon he proceeded in state to the palace and presented the shah with five elephants. The chamberlain regarded the elephants with suspicion, but oriental politeness prevents the inspection of a gift horse in the mouth, and, anyhow, the extra elephant removed all doubt.

"That extra elephant cost me $100," said Winston, in telling the story afterward. "But I consider myself getting out of a bad scrape cheap at that."—St. Louis Republic.

The School Ma'am in Maine.
The school committee of Saco have undertaken to steer their teachers by means of printed instructions, some of which are of general interest. Teachers are directed to be in their school rooms at least fifteen minutes before the time of opening each session. A list of their duties is given, such as: rooms and outbuildings are kept clean; They must not forget to fasten the doors and windows. Most important of all, they must see to the ventilation of the buildings and must refuse to permit any pupil to attend school from a house where there has been cholera, typhoid, measles or diphtheria. The board instructs teachers to absolutely prohibit the use of tobacco in buildings.—Lewiston Journal.

Polite of Politeness.
Polite Gentleman (to lady in front, at the theater)—I beg pardon, madam, but won't you be kind enough to press that flower on top of your hat, just a little?

Lady—Certainly. There. Will that do?

"Yes, thank you. Now I can see the leading lady's bangs very nicely. I was wondering what color her hair was."—New York Weekly.
